Solomon Islands

- a For 2000–2008, population figures were derived using growth rate between 1999 and 2009 population and housing censuses. For 2010–2018, population figures were derived using growth rate between 2009 and 2019 population and housing censuses. For 2020 onwards, population figures were sourced from the projections of Solomon Islands National Statistics Office.
- b The 2009 census was reported with 8.3% undercount. The average annual growth rate of the intercensal period 2009–2019 (2.6%) accounts for the adjustment (8.3% undercount). The unadjusted growth rate would have been 3.4%, which was extremely high.
- c For 2000–2008, urban population figures were derived using urban population growth rate between 1999 and 2009 population and housing censuses. For 2010–2018, urban population figures were derived using urban population growth rate between 2009 and 2019 population and housing censuses. For 2020 onwards, urban population figures were derived based on the urban population growth rate reported in the 2019 National Population and Housing Census National Report and the population projection from SINSO.
- d Data on labor force were sourced from the Economic Activity and Labour Force information from census publications. Due to differences in labour force definitions over the years, caution is required in any direct comparisons with past censuses. Labor Force includes all persons aged 12 years and over who were employed and unemployed during the reference period.
- e For 2009, the figure refers to paid employment. For 2019, it refers to both paid and unpaid work.
- f For 2009, data includes Information and Communication.
- g Includes all other industries other than those named.
- h Unpaid work refers to work where monetary cash payment is not necessarily obligated, in practice or by legislation, among those involved in the exchange of goods and services, such as persons employed voluntarily who assist other households, or as unpaid family worker, or as an own-account (subsistence) worker.
- i For 2003 onward, there are changes in basic concepts in line with the changing of the base year to 2012 and a closer consistency with the System of National Accounts 2008. Improvements to methodologies, data sources, concepts, and revisions to benchmark estimates have been implemented.
- j No rebalancing had been carried out on estimates from 2003 to 2011, and therefore the GDP series by industry structure for this period do not add up.
- k Includes water supply; and sewerage, waste management, and remediation activities.
- l Includes real estate activities; and administrative and support service activities.
- m Includes arts, entertainment, and recreation; activities of households as employers; undifferentiated goods- and services-producing activities of households for own use; and activities of extraterritorial organizations and bodies.
- n Refers to taxes on products less subsidies.
- o Refers to gross fixed capital formation.
- p For 2000–2002, includes information and communication.
- q Includes other service activities.
- r For 2003 onward, data are calculated based on the annual population average.
- s Refers to the gross agricultural production index.
- t Figures refer to electricity sales.
- u Prior to 2010, data refer to the consumer price index for Honiara. For 2010 onward, separate consumer price indexes for four towns (Auki, Gizo, Honiara, and Noro) were produced then aggregated as a weighted average for the national index.
- v For 2008–2009, excludes nonalcoholic beverages.
- w For 2008–2009, includes nonalcoholic beverages.
- x Refers to housing and utilities.
- y Refers to household operations.
- z Includes recreation and other services.
- aa For 2006 onward, figures follow the IMF's Balance of Payments and International Investment Position Manual (sixth edition).
- ab For 2000–2005, includes balance on primary income.
